Spergola Spumante

Brut Dry White Sparkling Wine

Excellent wine obtained from the careful pressing of pure white "Spergola" grapes, an indigenous vine from the small production area of the Scandiano hills, present in the area since 1400. The slow second fermentation takes place with the long Charmat method. At the end of fermentation, resting on the yeasts for about 6 months gives the wine a fine and persistent perlage. On the nose it denotes evolved floral hints, bread crust and yeasts, on the palate it is long, savory and fresh.

Particularly suitable for aperitifs and starters, it goes very well with cold cuts and cheeses, as well as fish dishes. It is produced in limited quantities.

Serving temperature: 6-8 °C.

Alcohol content 12%.
