

LIENTU

Malvasia Nera IGT

VINI MALACARI

Description: Salento, Red

Appearance: "Lientu," a red wine produced with Malvasia grapes, appears in the glass with a light and bright ruby color. This shade promises a light and refined experience.

Smell: The exploration of the aromatic bouquet of "Lientu" reveals delicate and inviting aromas. At first approach, notes of fresh red fruits emerge, such as strawberries and raspberries, with a spring freshness. There is also a subtle fragrance of flowers such as rose and violet, which add an elegant floral touch. A background of light spices, such as vanilla and a light note of licorice, give an underlined complexity.

Taste: The palate is pampered by a sensation of lightness and delicacy. The "Lientu" offers a light and supple structure, with a lively acidity that gives freshness. The taste is dominated by juicy red fruits, with a natural sweetness, which recalls the fragrances of the sense of smell. The tannins are soft and velvety, creating a round and pleasant sensation in the mouth. The finish is clean and slightly spicy, with a hint of vanilla that returns, inviting another sip.

Culinary pairings: "Lientu" is an ideal red wine to accompany light and fresh dishes. It pairs beautifully with summer salads, fish-based dishes such as grilled tuna or salmon, and fresh cheeses such as buffalo mozzarella. It's also an excellent choice for chicken or turkey dishes.

Alcohol content: 13% vol.

Serving temperature: 18°-20° C